Karl Philipp Nolte - Mein Genialität

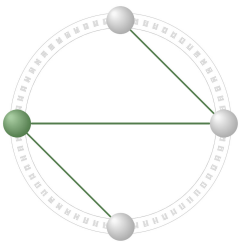

My Life's Work · What I'm here to do · Genschlüssel 48

Your work in life revolves around your innate ability to draw upon your considerable Gift of Resourcefulness. Once you begin an action, you will discover that you always have the inner resources to deal with any situation that life throws your way. You must trust in your intuitive wisdom, which is rooted in your belly. As you unravel the genius that lies inside you, you will have to confront some deep fears, and in particular, the fear of your own inadequacy. Only as you live life fully will your fears diminish, so you must hold nothing back and trust in your ability to be spontaneously creative. The wonder of your life is that you are always surprising yourself and others with your own brilliance. You have an endless well of ideas to improve and transform the lives of others, and it is important that you share them in order that they can be implemented.

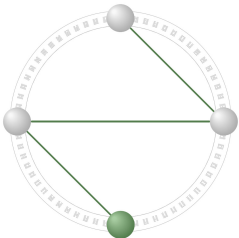

My Evolution · What I'm here to learn · Genschlüssel 21

For you, being in control is the issue. Any inadequacy you feel about yourself will manifest either through your being steamrolled by someone else or by someone resenting you for trying to control them. Your position as an authority figure depends on how successfully you can stay in tune with those whom you are leading. If there is any resentment, it will be because of something you yourself either said or did. Leadership for you is not about knowing the mechanics of your trade; it is about your core intent. Are you using your position to serve others or yourself? The less you think of yourself, the better leader you will become and the more you will be trusted. If you do not relate at all to being a leader, then you had better dig into your own past and purge yourself of the demons that have caused you to forget your true power.

My Radiance · What keeps me healthy · Genschlüssel 39

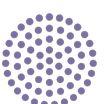

Your health depends on your having the courage to always follow your convictions. You have never been a follower of others, but have always sought to carve your own unique path through life. For you to radiate your natural joy and health, you need to be occupied with situations and people that constantly make you feel more alive. If you have nothing worthwhile to do, your spirit will feel sapped and your dynamism will falter. You need to engage with people who enjoy your natural spark, rather than people who take you or life too seriously or too personally. Above all, you need to feel a sense of freedom around you at all levels of your being.

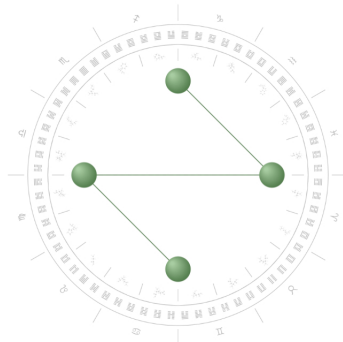

My Purpose · What deeply fulfils me · Genschlüssel 38

With the 38th Gift as your purpose, your life may read like a heroic novel. You will face storms, fight battles against the odds, be knocked down at times, but you will keep rising up and up until you stand in a place altogether beyond adversity. This field is the Field of Honour and it is the real purpose of your life — to serve a purpose beyond yourself. When you are living in the Field of Honour, it makes absolutely no difference what life throws at you. It all serves to push you closer and closer to your highest ideals. You may at times become lost in the details of your life, but you should never forget this underlying truth. Honour lives within every cell of your being, and the more you align with it, the more powerful and surrendered you will become. It is your truest nature, manifesting in every true action and decision you make. It is your defence against injustice and it is your constant inspiration. As you serve Honour, so it will serve you.
